Pin New Hope On Red Reply

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—The possibility arose today that replies by Prime Minister Stalin and Premier Ahmed Qavam to Security Council inquiries about the situation in Iran might obviate further United Nations action in the Russian-Iranian dispute. The council yesterday had adopted the direct method of asking Stalin and Qavam for reports on the status of negotiations and for information whether Russia is exacting concessions for withdrawing troops from oil-rich Iran. During the discussions, State Sec. Byrnes suggested that the answers—or when they come—might show that the two countries needed no further assistance in settling their dispute.

Messages to Stalin and Qavam—fixing 11 a. m. Wednesday as the deadline for receipt of the replies in New York—were sent by the Council secretariat last night to Ambassadors Andrei Gromyko of the Soviet Union and Hussein Ala of Iran, for relay to their home governments.

"If the Council could obtain more adequate and exact information regarding the status of negotiations between the Soviet government and the Iranian government, the Council might be able to satisfy itself that the assurances of the Soviet government as to the prompt withdrawal of troops from Iran are in fact for all practical purposes unconditional," Byrnes told the Council yesterday.

Here's How Russia Looks at Iran Issue

MOSCOW, March 30 (AP)—Soviet observers said today they felt the United States and Britain were violating the principle of "equality among nations" in pressing the Soviet-Iranian case.

Foreign political observers in Moscow, seeking to interpret the Soviet viewpoint, were almost unanimous in the conclusions:

1—The U. S. S. R. has difficulty in understanding why the United States and Britain should show such an interest in the question of Red troops in Iran when Britain retains troops in Greece, Egypt, Indonesia, the Levant, Iraq and Palestine and the United States keeps them in China, Iceland and elsewhere.

2—Russia cannot understand why she should not have oil concessions in Iran when Britain and the United States have them there, as well as in other parts of the Middle East.

3—Russian individuals feel the United States and Britain are using the meeting of the Security Council to embarrass the Soviet before the world.

British Mission in Iran to Investigate

LONDON, March 30 (INS)—A British parliamentary mission arrived in Iran today to inquire on the spot concerning withdrawal of Soviet troops.

Coincident with arrival in Tehran, a Reuters dispatch from the Iranian capital reported Prince Muzaffar Firooz, Iranian minister of information, had repudiated "certain statements" made by Hussein Ala, Iranian ambassador to the United States and delegate to the United Nations Security Council.

Tehran Papers Demand Ala's Withdrawal

TEHRAN, March 30 (INS)—Charges were made in Iranian political circles today that Hussein Ala, Iranian delegate to the United Nations Security Council, acted without instructions or authority in pressing his case against Russia.

Some influential Tehran newspapers demanded his withdrawal

Butter Just Melts

LOS ANGELES, March 30 (AP)—It seems that this butter, 3500 pounds of it, just melted away. The War Shipping Administration reported it was loaded on a truck at Los Angeles harbor, bound for a warehouse 15 minutes away. But at the unloading dock, the truck was empty. The WSA asked police to investigate.

PUTS END TO STRIKE THREAT—Invoking a law more than a century old, Gov. William Tuck, of Virginia, acts in threatened strike by Virginia Electric Power Co. employees by drafting them into the State Militia. Here, an officer in the militia serves draft order on John P. LeCraig, clerk at the Alexandria, Va., generating station. Later the company and employees agreed to arbitrate.

U. S. Labor Chief Meets Lewis in Coal Deadlock

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Secretary of Labor Schwollenbach conferred today with John L. Lewis, seeking to avert a paralyzing walkout of 400,000 soft coal miners tomorrow night at midnight. Schwollenbach and Assistant Secretary John W. Gibson consulted the mine union chief in his hotel suite while operators marked time in negotiations over the expiring contract which appeared hopelessly deadlocked.

Virginia Power Strike Parley On

RICHMOND, Va., March 30 (AP)—Officials of the Virginia Electric Power Co. and union representatives went into separate sessions today to consider new arbitration proposals as Lucien F. Rye, federal conciliator, asserted one crisis in the threatened strike April 1, of 1800 workers had passed.

The company and the union earlier agreed on wage increase of 17 1/2 cents per hour, but the union feared the company would withdraw this agreement if arbitration of all issues has agreed to. Company spokesmen said they would keep their promise.

Meanwhile, the state Adjutant General carrying out Gov. Tuck's orders to draft the utility workers into Virginia's "unorganized militia" to keep them on the job. Gov. Tuck said his action would not be relaxed until threat of a "disaster" had passed.

Church Dedicated In Roxbury for Negro Catholics

St. Richard's Church, Buena Vista st., Roxbury, was dedicated as a place of worship for Negro Catholics of Greater Boston by Archbishop Richard J. Cushing today at a solemn pontifical mass.

The archbishop disclosed the new edifice was made possible through a $50,000 gift by the Rev. Maurice J. O'Connor of St. James Church, Arlington, who served as one of the deacons at the dedication ceremonies.

The archbishop said: "I have hoped for a long time to establish a shrine for the colored people. "But it was not to be considered in the slightest as favoring of segregation. The colored people know me better than that. The rights of others are the rights of the Negro. Except for the Cathedral, I undoubtedly will be at this church more often than at any other."

At the same time, it was announced that Roger Putnam, former Springfield mayor, and Mrs. Putnam had established a perpetual scholarship fund to send a Negro girl each year to St. Regis College.

St. Richard's will be directed by the Rev. Richard E. Early, S. S. J. It is planned to establish a convent at St. Richard's in the near future.

Truman Carries Cares on Cruise

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—In spring-like weather, President Truman cruised down the Potomac river today, but he took official cares along with him.

With him on his yacht, U. S. S. Williamsburg, which returns to the capital late today, were Senate Majority Leader Barkley of Kentucky and Sens. O'Mahoney (D.) of Wyoming, Murdock (D.) of Utah, Funnell (D.) of Delaware, and Hill (D.) of Alabama. George E. Allen, new RFC director, also was in the party.

Taunton Vet Nears Goal in Death Race

Apparently winning his grim race with death, former Paratrooper Joseph Cananze of Taunton boarded a train in London today to reach the bedside of his dying wife at Nottingham, England, according to the Associated Press. He is carrying special medicine for the virulent type of anemia from which his wife, Mrs. Winifred May Cananze, is suffering as a result of deficiency in diet and long hours as a war worker.

Lowell Girl Gets 40 Yrs. For Murder

BRIDGET THERESA GRAY
Long Term for Slaying

OGDEN, Utah, March 30 (AP)—Pretty Bridget Theresa Gray, who came from Lowell, Mass., to work in a Utah arsenal during the war, today was sentenced to 40 years in prison for stabbing her sailor sweetheart to death at an Ogden night club Feb. 6.

Miss Gray, a former waitress, pleaded guilty to second degree murder in the slaying of Seaman Gola L. Morris, 17, of Camp Point, Ill.

She entered the plea after the charge was reduced from first degree murder.

In pronouncing sentence, Judge John A. Hendricks said the term was based on Miss Gray's life expectancy. She will be imprisoned at the Canon City, Col., State Prison. Utah's prison has no facilities for women.

Gray Girl's Marriage Ended in Divorce

Bridget Theresa Gray, 21, of Lowell, sentenced to 40 years in Utah for the knife slaying of a Navy seaman, went West a year ago after her wartime marriage to a soldier twice her age was shattered.

From the time she was arrested for the slaying last February, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luke Gray, of Elliot st., Lowell, unable to aid her because of lack of funds, stood by helplessly, keeping track of her case through newspapers.

Awaiting trial, the young woman declared she wanted freedom or death but not a prison sentence.

She married her soldier husband, Pvt. Joe M. Garcia, 32, of Durango, Col., in Lowell three years ago while he was stationed at Ft. Devens. The marriage ended in divorce in Las Vegas, Nev., last year.

In Utah she worked as a waitress and later at the Ogden Arsenal until arrested for the killing.

MacArthur Upheld on Jap Elections Order

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Despite opposition from Russia and New Zealand, the Far Eastern Commission today upheld Gen. MacArthur's decision to permit Japan's elections April 10.

No formal vote was taken on the issue after it became apparent most of the 11-nation members were satisfied with MacArthur's explanation why he felt it desirable to have the elections as scheduled.

For Art's Sake

CHICAGO, March 30 (AP)—An octogenarian who entered the Chicago Art Institute through a window and stayed 54 years, said today Chicago culture had changed somewhat since 1892.

"People don't spit on the floor like they used to," said Martin Thon, 82.

Arriving at the institute with a load of statuary too big for the door, he stayed and became assistant building superintendent. Asked about his interest in art, he replied:

"I'm more interested in keeping the place clean."

Overjoyed that her husband was on his way to her side, the stricken wife ordered her bed moved to a front window of her parents' home to watch for "My Joe."

The former paratrooper's race started here Thursday when he flew with his mother by specially chartered plane to New York to board a Pan-American transatlantic airliner.

His departure came after heart-breaking delays over obtaining passport and other credentials.

Finally over the Atlantic, he seemed well on his way toward winning the race with death until even the elements seemed to conspire against him. He was forced to leave the fog-grounded airliner at Shannon Airport, Eire, yesterday.

His journey resumed today, he landed at Hurn Airport, Bourne-mouth, almost forgetting his precious medicine in the haste to board a train for the slower journey to the Midlands. He was due to reach his wife's side at 6 p. m. (EST).

His wife's condition was described as grave.

The couple were married in August, 1944, after the paratrooper, wounded in the Normandy invasion, was hospitalized in England. Returning home, he was discharged last January and expected his wife here a month later. It was not until she failed to arrive that he learned of her serious illness.

Taunton American Legionnaires raised a $2000 fund to finance his race with death, and a week ago the aid of Cong. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., was obtained to expedite issuance of a special passport.

Lively Fish Story

This is a fish story in which smelt is not past tense.

Mrs. Mary Cosmo of Magnus ave., Somerville, went shopping for her Friday fish supper yesterday morning. She carried the fish home in her shopping bag and about five hours later began preparing them for frying.

One smelt rebelled and leaped to the floor. Mrs. Cosmo's daughter, Constance, picked it up and placed it in a bowl of fresh water where, she says, it still lives happily today.

Fear Frost Tonight, Fire Peril Checked

The warmest March in Boston Weather Bureau annals threatened to go out like a lion as a 40-degree drop in temperatures and brisk breezes today brought a warning of frost in the suburbs tonight with clear and continued cool weather predicted for tomorrow.

The sudden slump of the mercury aided fire-fighters throughout New England in bringing under control a series of brush and woodland fires which reached near-epidemic proportions yesterday when the temperature was in the 80's, causing damage of more than $200,000.

Boston fire officials reported that from March 18 until 8 a. m. today, the department responded to 1464 alarms, more than 90 percent of them for brush and grass fires. Of the total, 142 alarms were false.

Parents Ask to Be Rid Of Their 3 Children

OMAHA, Neb., March 30 (INS)—An Omaha couple expressed a love for their three children today but insisted they wanted to "get rid of them because they make us nervous." Public Defender Joe Lovely said Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Van Horn asked him to handle legal proceedings involved in turning the children over to Mr. and Mrs. John Yunik, who took care of them for six months last year. The children are Tommy, 4, Caroline, 3, and Stanley, 2. Mrs. Van Horn, who was married when she was 15, explained:

DRIVEN OUT IN BRIGHTON FIRE—When flames swept their home in Kilsyth rd., Brighton, today, Beverly, 3; Richard, 14 months; their mother, Mrs. George Soroto; Mrs. Benjamin Lack and her daughter, Cheryl, 2 (l. to r.), were driven to the street. Cheryl was carried to safety over a ladder. INP by Joseph Parodi

"We love them but we get nervous and argue when the children are around. When they are not, we get along fine. So we just decided to give them up."

The mother, now 21, told Lovely she hoped the proceedings wouldn't take long because she and her husband planned to give up their apartment and go to Minneapolis for a vacation.

Mrs. Van Horn said neither she nor her husband, a 26-year-old ex-serviceman, wants any more children.

The three children will be in good hands if the court decrees they can be turned over to the Yunicks.

Yunik, 50, who works for a retail furniture company, operates a small apartment house and lives with his wife on their small farm outside Omaha, said:

"These three little towheads never will suffer. I hope we have no trouble getting them."

Mrs. Yunick, 51 and childless, added:

"I can't understand why the parents want to give up those beautiful children. We count it a rare privilege to get them. They'll never want for anything."

Mrs. Yunick said that the children "are glad to be with us and we're glad to be with them."

She added:

"They love us and we love them."

E. Boston Crash Ties Up Traffic

Traffic along Meridian st., East Boston, was held up for a half-hour today while police and fire rescue crews extricated Jerry Giglio, 35, of Victoria st., East Boston, from his auto, which became wedged between inbound and outbound street cars near Harvard st.

Giglio was uninjured. The accident happened less than 100 yards from the East Boston police station. None of about 50 passengers of the two street cars claimed injury.

Canada Calls Pavlov Head Of Red Spies

By MICHAEL GRIFFIN

OTTAWA, March 30 (INS)—Ottawa's social leaders were popeyed with amazement today at the government revelation that the affable Russian they often entertained in their homes is the head of a Soviet secret police detail in Canada.

He is Vitali Pavlov, second secretary at the Soviet embassy here. Pavlov was still in Ottawa today, though many of the other Russians named in the espionage revelations have gone home.

Pavlov was identified by the royal commission investigating espionage as head of the Soviet secret police in Canada.

The commission also announced it has evidence the Soviet secret police were operating in the Dominion long before 1943, when the Soviet embassy was set up in Ottawa.

Because Pavlov enjoys diplomatic immunity, he is not subject to arrest.

Though 13 have now been charged with violation of the official secrets act, along with Fred Rose, Communist member of the Canadian Parliament, the investigation will proceed and other arrests are expected.

Five men were accused of giving the Russians secret information in the latest report. They are Eric Adams, economist and member of the war inventions board; James Scotland Benning, government statistician; Dunford Smith, research engineer; Prof. Israel Halperin, Queens University mathematician, and Squadron leader Fred Poland.

All pleaded not guilty and were ordered to appear for preliminary hearing next Thursday.

The report listed Adams as the head of the Ottawa group working with the Soviet agents. He was described as a good worker by Col. Nicolai Zabotin, Russian military attache, in a document quoted by the commission.

The most serious charge against Halperin, an artillery major, whose Soviet code name was "Bacon," was that he told the Russians about a secret new projectile and gave "the general principles of its operation."

Auto Crash Stalls Doctor; Baby Dies

Answering an emergency call this morning to treat a stricken infant, Dr. Carl Rothschild of Main st., Malden, narrowly escaped serious injury when his car went out of control and crashed into a hydrant a short distance from his home.

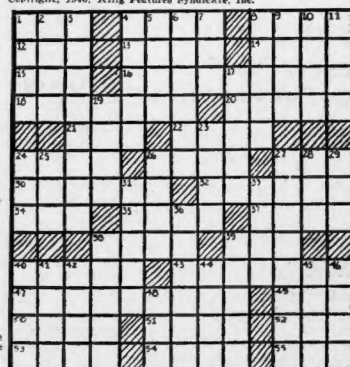

Notified that a broken hydrant was flooding the street, Sgt. Perley Howard and Patrolman Daniel Daley responded and found the wrecked car with the doctor standing by.

Telling the officers of his predicament, they sped him to their cruiser car to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carchide in Bryant st., Malden, where their 1-day-old baby boy had been suddenly taken ill.

While Dr. Rothschild was attempting to revive the infant, the two officers notified firemen who arrived at the house with an inhalator, but all efforts to revive the child failed and he was pronounced dead. The cause of death was not immediately determined by the medical examiner.

Girl Confesses Killing Baby Niece Who Cried

DETROIT, March 30 (AP)—Det. Sergt. Delbert Raymond said today a 25-year-old waitress was held by police on a charge of investigation of murder following a statement to authorities that she strangled her 10 weeks old niece in Algonac, Mich., last December. Det. Raymond identified her as Muriel Wrightman, who telephoned police and surrendered voluntarily last night. Raymond said she told police she "wanted to tell them about a slaying."

The death certificate was signed by Dr. Walter H. Bouchner and Edward Kane of Algonac, a justice of the peace who was acting coroner. The certificate gave the cause of death as "suffocation due to inhalation of vomitus."

Shirley Ann was the daughter of Miss Wrightman's sister, Mrs. Phyllis Little, 19, and was born in the Wrightman home. The mother had gone to Hopkinsville, Ky., leaving the baby with her family. Detective Raymond said Miss Wrightman's own daughter, Victoria Ann, 2, also lived with the family. He quoted her as saying: "I had the care of both children. I got tired of taking care of the baby and of hearing about how much prettier she was than Victoria Ann. I got jealous, I guess. 'I had been drinking when I got home that night. Shirley Ann was crying and every one else was asleep upstairs. I wanted to stop her crying and I acted on impulse. Then I went to bed.'"

Miss Wrightman's mother discovered the body next morning.

$10,000 Bail Holds Youth in Back Bay Attack

John Ross, 22-year-old bus boy, recently arrived here from Winston-Salem, N. C., was held for grand jury today in Municipal Court on charges of assault and battery and criminally attacking Mrs. Hannah Poland, a widow and matron at the Massachusetts Hospital for Crippled Children, Canton.

Ross was arrested in an alley off Clarendon st., Back Bay, when Patrolman James J. O'Donnell of the Back Bay station found him struggling with the victim, Mrs. Poland appeared in court, her face battered and cut from glasses broken. Judge Elijah Adlow set bail at $10,000.

Two other men, one a Negro, were charged in the same court with unarmed robbery on Mrs. Doris Polla, 40, of Newland st., South End, robbed of her pocketbook containing 75 cents as she neared her home.

Reuben Tucker, 27-year-old Negro, and Samuel Douglas, 39, the defendants, had their cases continued until next Wednesday after police said the victim was under a doctor's care.

All Oratory Titlists Known Wednesday

By BERT FORD

In the first public school founded in the United States, the Public Latin School of Boston, the winner in the intramural contest was announced today in the 1946 Hearst Newspapers National Oratorical Contest: "Andrew Jackson, Seventh President of the United States."

Throughout Boston, these intramurals are near completion. Names of all winners in high school and college groups must be announced by next Wednesday to the Contest Editor, Boston Record-American and Sunday Advertiser, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston.

At Boston Latin School, the winner is John Estratatos Rexine, 16, a junior, of Woodward Park, st., Dorchester. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Rexine, an honor student at his school, member of the Debating Club, Literary Club, French Club and Dramatic Group, and a sergeant in the school cadet corps.

Young Rexine is a student in the school where both eastern zone and national finals will be held, the zone finals on April 24, and the national finals on May 2. He is now eligible to compete in the Boston finals at Faneuil Hall on April 10.

As public and parochial high schools throughout Boston were completing their preliminary contests, endorsement of the aim and the subject of this enterprise in education and patriotism came from Francis J. Roche, state commander of the Massachusetts Veterans, Disabled American Veterans.

"To the veterans of the two great and costly wars of our generation," Roche said, "the subject of this Hearst Oratorical Contest, Andrew Jackson, should prove an inspiration."

"Andrew Jackson fought for his country in two major wars. He was wounded in both, but his wounds did not daunt his fighting spirit. He lived to overcome the pain and suffering of both wars, and to give his services as a great statesman and a great President."

"Our young high school and college students today can profit by the study of the life of this man."

Winners in this oratorical contest will share in $25,000 awards, all in Victory Bonds, and equally divided between high school and college groups. The two national winners will each receive a $1000 Victory Bond, and in addition they will be given a trip, with all expenses paid, through Andrew Jackson's own country in the South.

Norton Calls Vet Project Menace

Clement A. Norton, School Committee chairman, today charged that homes being prepared for veterans at Camp McKay in South Boston are firetraps and so infested with rats and disease that no child could safely live there. He called on city officials to stop playing politics with the vets.

Building Commr. John J. Mahoney, special target of the blast, was accused of not doing his job in the face of political pressure.

"Those barracks are firetraps and the dump land they are built on are thick with thousands of rats," Norton declared. "In the rebuilding program, there is no proper provision for fire-proofing and nothing has been done about the rats."

"I demand that Comr. Mahoney get on the job and stop sitting mutely on the sidelines while these firetraps are being renovated. Mahoney knows the buildings are a fire hazard. He knows that recently, in a nearby community, a flash fire in a building of similar construction cost the lives of five persons in three minutes."

"As a high-salaried servant of the people he should do his duty at once."

Saugus Man Killed By Fumes in Home

Walter Dill, 27, of Appleton st., East Saugus, was found dead in the living room of his home today by his wife, Irene, and was pronounced a victim of accidental gas poisoning by Medical Examiner Lawrence Cusick. Gas was pouring from an open jet of the stove in the adjoining kitchen when the flame apparently had blown out under a pan of water. A pet cat also was asphyxiated.

A Saugus High School football star in 1938, Dill was employed at the General Electric River Works plant in Lynn. In addition to his wife he is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dill; a daughter, Judith, 4; a son, Richard, 2; two brothers and a sister.

Spurned Suitor Held in Slayings

CINCINNATI, O., March 30 (INS)—A 32-year-old Cincinnati man was held today in connection with the fatal shooting of a farmer and a young woman as the climax of what police called a triangle love affair.

The victims were John Lowell, 47, Carlock, Ill., and Sarah Mildred Hensley, 22, Cincinnati. Police said Donald Eugene Morgan, 32, shot and killed the couple Thursday night as they sat in a parked automobile on a downtown street.

Police quoted Morgan as saying he had lived with the slain woman as man and wife for three years, until she left him a month ago.

Finds Wife Slain In N. Y. Home

NEW YORK, March 30 (INS)—Mrs. Catherine Behler, 51, was found slain today in the living room of her apartment.

Mrs. Behler, the side of her head bashed in, was sitting on the floor leaning against the radio. The bedroom and bath also were spattered with blood. The body was discovered by her husband, Harry Behler.

99 Years in Prison For Triangle Slaying

BEDFORD, Ia., March 30 (AP)—Within six minutes after he had pleaded guilty last night to a triangle slaying, Henry Schmitt, Lenox, Ia., horse-trader, was sentenced of 99 years imprisonment.

Charged with first degree murder for the confessed killing of Tommy Worm, 42, his sweetheart's husband, Schmitt pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree. His wife and son, wept.

Laundry Cleanup

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—The customers of Sing Lee's laundry in Brooklyn couldn't wait any longer for the 70-year-old Chinese to recover from pneumonia.

So City License Commr. Benjamin Fielding sent two men to open his shop and deliver the bodies. Sing Lee has been ill for two months.

Stokowski Rows With Cameraman

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 30 (INS)—Leopold Stokowski and his heirless wife, Gloria Vanderbilt, left here in a huff today after a scuffle with a photographer.

The two tangled with the newspaper cameraman yesterday when he took their picture in a tea room downtown.

B. D. Cooley snapped Stokowski. The famous conductor promptly backed him against the wall and demanded the photograph.

It broke up when a second photographer arrived on the scene and started to take a picture of the scuffle.

The Stokowskis then dashed away and forgot to pay their bill. They later sent the money.

CARGO OF JAP CONVICTS

TOKYO, March 30 (AP)—A shipload of 250 Japanese convicted of robbery, murder and other crimes will arrive at Kago-shima from Formosa about April 7.

Missing Philly Boy, 3, Found; Girl Parolee Held

WARSAW, N. Y., March 30 (AP)—Mayer Trobman, 3, object of an intensive search since Wednesday, was safe today in a Warsaw boarding home awaiting return to his parents in Philadelphia. The child was found in a schoolhouse in near-by Attica. Shortly afterward, a young woman hitch-hiker told police she had taken Mayer there after a truck driver had left him in her care.

She was first booked on a charge of vagrancy but was later arraigned on a charge of "transporting in interstate commerce the victim of a kidnapping" and held in $20,000 bail. She was committed to the county jail. First giving her name as Janet Holloway, she later was identified through fingerprint records as Amelia Sobka.

Miss Sobka, Sheriff Clinton said, was on parole from Clinton Prison for Women, Clinton, N. J., released April 5, 1945, after serving a term for assault.

Advice on How To Use Lipstick

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE
Beauty and Fashion Editor

LIP MAKEUP is an art too often violated by women who wield the lipstick with a vengeance. Generally speaking... it is wiser to follow the natural line of the lips... thereby avoiding the "bleeding" look when the lip rouge runs out the skin.

Here are a few tidbits of advice to remember when applying one of beauty's strongest standbys, the lipstick:

A widened mouth, that is, carrying the rouge in a pronounced way to the outer corners of the mouth, will have a tendency to widen the lower part of the face and therefore to shorten it. The same is true of the affectation of squaring the outer corners of the upper lip.

An exaggerated arch toward the center of the mouth gives the effect of lengthening the face and therefore narrowing it. A heavily rouged or thickened upper lip will shorten the distance between the nose and the mouth.

Spanish Onion on Rice Makes Delectable Dish

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

PERENNIAL STAR of the vegetable bin is the onion. Other vegetables have a brilliant summer season; then are forgotten. But the onion is a longtime favorite that lasts throughout the year.

The onion comes on the market in the fall, and weathers the whole winter when stored in a cool, well-ventilated place.

The onion, as its generic name implies, is a flower among the vegetables, for the onion is pure flavor and aroma. A good onion is notable for sweetness. Try this test sometime: Slice an onion, hold your nose, and taste a little nibble. Crunch it in your teeth. Savor the flavor on your tongue. You'll find, when the odor is shut out, an onion is as sweet as sugar. But restore the odor—and it is an onion once again.

SPANISH ONION ON RICE

As a seasoning it has no peer, but as a dish itself the onion also has great merit. Try this, for instance: Cut 5 medium-sized onions in eighths and slice 1 green pepper in strips. Saute until tender in ¼ cup margarine or butter. To this add an 11-ounce can of cream of tomato soup—the condensed kind—and ¼ teaspoon of salt. Heat in the skillet until the soup and onion have given the best of themselves to each other. Serve over a mound of fluffy cooked rice, with crisp salad and hot rolls. Your family will vote this a noble dish will call your meatless menus magic!

Pick up some

PICKWICK

BREWED BY HAFFNERREFFER & CO., INC., Boston, Mass., BREWERS SINCE 1870

Jacket.. By Suzanne

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

Beauty and Fashion Editor

YOUR school days may be over . . . but your jacket days are here to stay. With its, it's the Buster Brown collar suit. But when you're grown-up gals . . . it is the Eton jacket suit . . . that perky, pert, wing-collar jacket costume that's a divine choice for the girl young in years, young in looks, young in future . . . and who's a smarty-pie when it comes to fashion.

We're especially impressed with its jaunty . . . its noticeable freshness and sweet, but not so simple, girlishness. For if you do look like a demure "little school girl" in Suzanne's wing-collar, deep-armholed, turned-back cuffed Eton jacket suit . . . you'll be one who obviously knows all the answers.

All the "endearing young charms" which the junior miss or junior executive, young careerist or young matron adore in clothes are written into this new bolero costume . . . an all-day dutiful in style. And if you contrast a dark skirt with a bright-colored jacket . . . you have Suzanne's fashion blessings. This season she heartily endorses this new trend.

So let the artist in you have a fling at color contrasting. But be certain the accessorization of this mix-matched outfit is in complete color accord.

(Monday's Designer: Pauline Trigere)

JACKET AND DRESS are an ideal spring combination. Particularly when they are in wool and in natural kasha and black for a dramatic study in color contrast. In this street beauty . . . Suzanne lines the short box jacket of natural kasha and bands the yoke with black faille. Worn with easy grace over a black wool dress . . . the frock reverses the color and has a yoke-band of kasha. An ideal fashion duet for virtually all figure types . . . since simple silhouette lines prevail.

BURNT WHEAT and navy wool fashion the smartest outfits this season. And this little Suzanne number features the new wing-collar Eton jacket with full, rounded sleeves and shoulder line for a marked new look. The softly-jutting pockets on the gracefully flared skirt are dapper. The blouse . . . also in burnt wheat color . . . accents the light-above-dark in two color suits. And the off-the-face bonnet in straw is beribboned in Navy.

Boston American, Mar. 30-31

LITTLE SUITS are wonderful choices for spring. There are definite new trends in both the jackets and skirts of these 1946 costumes.

The bolero has come back, cut like a wing collar Eton jacket with small slashed breast pockets and neat turn-back cuffs on deep arm-hole sleeves. Some skirts are straight while others have graceful fullness at the hips.

I like to see suits of more than one color. A dark skirt with a brighter contrasting jacket can be very handsome. I think this is especially smart in navy with the brand new burnt wheat color; or black with my favorite beige.

Waists are slimmer this year and shoulders rounder. Soft wools are ideal for spring suits and dresses.

Suzanne

YOKED SKIRT for the slim, trim figure! It hangs full and gracefully to complement the squared-off bolero in this small checked pink, navy and white wool street costume by Suzanne. Noticeably new in look and feeling . . . it bubbles with fashion buoyancy. And crisp white touches in blouse and hat point up its youthful jaunty. Deep armholes . . . tapered to turned-back cuffs . . . are of the season.

After a solemn pontifical mass, Archbishop Richard J. Cushing blesses the new St. Richard's Church, Buena Vista st., Roxbury, as a place of worship for Negro Catholics. His Excellency disclosed the new edifice was made possible by a $50,000 gift from the Rev. Maurice J. O'Connor of St. James' Church, Arlington. It was pointed out by the Archbishop in his talk that it was not intended as a parish church for Negroes and that they, as always, may go to any church they like.

A SHAMEFUL BETRAYAL

IF THE UNITED STATES Government does less than its utmost to prevent the planned murder of Gen. Draja Mihailovic by Tito's Communists, it will have committed an act of betrayal that the American people will remember with shame forever.

Gen. Mihailovic, as War Minister of Yugoslavia, valiantly resisted the advance of the German armies across his country.

When the hopeless fight was lost, he refused to give up but organized the brilliant and tremendously effective Yugoslav underground army, which harried the Germans so boldly and effectively that many divisions of Nazi troops were kept from other fronts.

Among the feats for which Americans are and should be most grateful to him was his rescue of some 500 American airmen forced down in Yugoslavia in raid on the Romanian and Bulgarian oil fields.

So highly did the American Government value the bravery and military effectiveness of Mihailovic's patriot army that American military missions were secretly sent into Yugoslavia to co-operate with it.

Gen. Mihailovic was OUR FRIEND AND ALLY.

But when Soviet Russia set about infiltrating and undermining Yugoslavia, the United States Government withdrew its support from Mihailovic and gave it to the Communist puppet Tito.

Now Tito's relentless agents have hunted Mihailovic down and Tito's spokesmen have announced, BEFORE ANY TRIAL HAS BEEN HELD that he "certainly will be shot."

Mihailovic's only offense is that he RESISTED COMMUNIST RUSSIA IN DEFENSE OF HIS OWN COUNTRY'S FREEDOM.

URGENT APPEAL

TOMORROW in their churches millions of Catholics, responding to the urgent appeal of Pope Pius XII, will contribute large sums of money for the people of all creeds, races and nationalities in the war-devastated areas of the world.

Seldom, if ever, has there been a worthier cause or a greater need for extraordinarily generous giving.

Typhus, typhoid, tuberculosis and malaria stalk countries and continents.

Starvation menaces those who escaped bullets.

Little children, as innocent and lovable as our own sons and daughters, live in a veritable hell of misery and privation.

Truly, the want defies description and imagination.

Fortunately, God in His infinite wisdom has so blessed Americans that they can share their material wealth through their churches with those to whom a single dollar often means the difference between life and death.

We are confident that the donations in all cities and towns of the diocese and nation will surpass the most hopeful expectations.

FAVORS GARAGE

THE Massachusetts Daughters of the American Revolution, an important patriotic organization, has endorsed the proposed garage under Boston Common.

Joining the thousands of persons who know that this vitally essential project will benefit the city and State tremendously, the Daughters expressed the hope that the integrity of the Common would not be violated.

This certainly will not happen.

All the monuments will remain.

All the shrines will be protected.

All the meaning of the venerable park will be preserved and perpetuated.

And the land above the garage will be transformed into one of the most beautiful gardens in the world.

Legislation for the garage should be hastened in the House and Senate.

And the construction should begin at the earliest possible date.

Failure to have built the garage in the past has cost us more than $55,000,000 a year in lost business and destroyed employment.

IN SEVERAL cities those opposing private ownership of taxicabs by war veterans claim such ownership results in "rate wars and inconvenience to the public." If that is true, it is the fault of the governments of these cities. In New York city the taxicab rates are fixed by law. New Yorkers who own their own cabs are numerous. On the sides of many cabs is painted "owner driven." That is a recommendation in New York. The owner driven cabs are the cleanest in the city; their drivers the most courteous; their cabs in the best mechanical shape. Owning a taxicab is a good business for a veteran. It keeps him out in the open and gives him the action his restless spirit needs. No body should be permitted to deprive him of this opportunity.

PLEASE NOTE: Women claim to be much neater than men. Perhaps they are. But at times the feminine claim for neatness is open to question. Especially as it concerns the handling of lipstick. No doubt you read that Bishop Dagwell of Oregon was compelled to complain that too many women left lipstick stain on the communion cup.

That's a difficult task. People

"My, my, David! It says there's quicksand around here!"

THESE DAYS

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Copyright, 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

NO MATTER what happens in the Iranian situation, the Russians have again proved that in a manner of speaking East is East and West is West.

In the Western world, we understand the responsibility of voluntary association; that when one joins a body, the decision of the majority in that body is binding upon him.

When in UNO, the decision was nine to two for considering the Iranian question, the Russian walked out. He boycotted the session.

It is a difference in point of view. It is the same as the Russian insistence on the veto.

It is the same as the Russians holding an election with only one list of candidates, with no opposition.

To the Russians, what we call democratic action is the submission of the powerful to the will of the powerless.

To us, democratic action is the recognition of the rights of the minority to equal opportunity with the majority.

They believe that a free press is one that is permitted to exist by the government.

We believe that a free press is one that exists without government interference.

THEIR CONCEPT of life is wholly different from ours because their traditions, their habits of mind, their beliefs are different from ours.

The great Count Tolstoy sought to break through the darkness of his world and to discover what freedom meant.

In the epilogue to "War and Peace," he struggles with the meaning of freedom. This is what he reaches:

"Freedom is what is observed; necessarily is that observed. Freedom is the substance; necessity is the form. Only by separating these two sources of self-comprehension (which are not one another as form to substance) can we gain distinct ideas of freedom and necessity—ideas which, when combined, are both incomprehensible and mutually exclusive. Likewise it is only by uniting them that we can gain a clear conception of the life of man."

How much simpler is freedom expressed in the Constitution of the United States:

"Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances."

Or that clause in the XIV Amendment which reads:

"Nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

WE HAVE TO face the fact that henceforth we have to do business with a people who do not understand us and whom we do not understand.

It is not a question of Capitalism or Communism of a Republic or a despotic oligarchy.

It is a question of human reactions to identical situations.

I have never seen that stated better than in William Aylott Orton's "The Liberal Tradition," when he says:

"... The individual may say to the state in practical matters, I think you are wrong but for the sake of peace and expediency I will assent to your policy; but when the state says to the individual I know I am right and I call upon you to testify to that fact—then comes the parting of the ways; one way may lead to tyranny while the other leads to the concentration camp and the firing squad."

COMPARE THAT with a statement by Stalin at the beginning of the Russian revolution:

"The fundamental question of revolution is the question of power. Who holds power, which class is in power—that is what wholly determines the character of a revolution, its course and outcome. What is called a crisis of power is nothing more nor less than the outward expression of the class struggle for power."

We think in terms of rights and obligations; they think in terms of power.

They think in terms of a class struggle; we think in terms of the rights, privileges, duties, obligations and immunities of the individual.

When we talk to each other, we really do not use the same ideas.

We use language that can be understood but we hardly reach a meeting of minds on anything.

That is our difficulty.

Westbrook Pegler Is Not on Vacation

Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, March 30—Who do you think is McG-M's top grossing star? Hold everything—it's Lassie, whose last picture made $3,500,000 in this country alone. You know from that, that people love animals. I realized how much everybody is interested in what Lassie does on the screen and what our other trained animals do after I wrote an interview with Curley Twiford. I have never had so many letters about any one article. I even got pictures of cats from people who wanted me to assure Curley that their cats could be trained.

Claude Jarman

Lassie's next picture will be "Snow Moon" an original by Lionel Houser, who will produce it. The young boy will be played by Claude Jarman. I am told Claude is simply wonderful in "The Yearling." He is such a fascinating child that Clarence Brown would like to adopt him. Clarence, I might add, and Marian Speed, his secretary, are going to be married as soon as Clarence is legally free.

ENGLAND MAY be breathing fire about some of our American pictures—and the money they make—but English actresses continue to come to Hollywood. When I checked Universal a couple of months ago to see if the popular English star, Phyllis Calvert, was coming here for "Time Out of Mind," the deal had not jelled. But today Arthur Rank said via transatlantic telephone that Miss Calvert would be here in 60 days to star in the late Rachel Field's novel. It seems funny to think of importing an English belle for this typically American story about a New England family in the 1880s—remember that Vivien Leigh did all right in "Gone With the Wind" and Patricia Roy, another Britisher, plays a pioneer Western heroine in "Canyon Passage."

WHEN GUY JONES, author of "Two Survived," joined the OWI abroad, his wife, Constance, worked on his story, "Peabody's Mermaid," which was incomplete in 1941. As you who read Cosmopolitan magazine know, it appeared as a serial and later as a novel. Interestingly, it has just purchased the rights to this romantic comedy and with the help of Nunnally Johnson, who writes the screen play and produces, will bring it to your attention come next fall. So far, no one has been mentioned for the leading roles.

LYSIAN SARAH BERNHARDT, the granddaughter of the Divine Sarah, who was here over a year ago with the life of her famous grandmother, is back again. She herself has written a screen play on this subject, with which naturally she is very familiar, and is listening to offers from several studios. At one time David Selznick was interested in the production for Ingrid Bergman, and Bettie Davis has always wanted a chance to play the one and only Bernhardt. Mademoiselle Bernhardt is represented by the Leo Morrison office here and will undoubtedly decide which star studio's mother she will be.

I COULDN'T BE HAPPIER than to pass on the good news that Ann Sothern and Robert Sterling are back together again after their long separation. Annie and Bob got together and patched up all their differences and tonight they will be the dinner guests of the Mervyn Leroy's before going on together to the Cads' party at the old Clover Club. They were both so miserable when they were parted it was almost a cinch they would make up. As a matter of fact, I had their reconciliation all ready to announce as one of my "forecasts" on my radio show tomorrow night—before they were back together. Well, when people are happy I don't mind being scooped.

WON'T BE LONG now before "Life With Father" gets going. Irene Dunne has a date next week to have her hair tinted a golden red. She won't be quite as red headed as William Powell and the boys, but she'll be a Titian beauty. Little Elizabeth Taylor is all set for the role of the little girl from The country. Za Su Pitts has one of the other interesting parts. Mike Curtiz, who has been testing like mad for these roles, now confirms that Elizabeth and Za Su are official.

LOUIS B. MAYER will be host at the "Hall and Farewell" party tonight that concludes three years of entertainment for servicemen at the famed Masquers' Club. At the Masquers our top actors wait on tables and then tear off their aprons and dash into a 12-to-14-seat show following dinner. Each performance has produced some top headliner such as John Charles Thomas or Jose Iturbi and many of the best vaudeville acts in the country have appeared from time to time. Well, the good work is over and I think every boy who has been a guest there joins me in saying that Edward Earle, President Charles Coburn and Fred Niblo—the guiding spirits—have done a wonderful job.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Arthur Lewis, son of McG-M Producer Al Lewis is going to be married in Hollywood April 14 to Evelyn Eisner, prominent young New York artist and designer. Jorja Curtwright, still in a daze over the reception she got in New York, is back at the typewriter until next month when her secretarial job, Betty Hutton handled the sale of El Rancho Vegas in Las Vegas. The price was $2,500,000. Joe Brown, well-known local hotel owner, sold it to Stanford Adler; now it's Arthur Freed who has gone into the horse breeding business. He's bought 25 acres in Zuma Canyon to raise Palomino ponies; Bob Walker and his brother, Walter, New York attorney, have gone to Ogden, Utah, for a family reunion.

BEVERLY BAYNE, famous star of the silent screen, may be heading for Hollywood. She's had a big stage success and I understand she's had several interesting offers; Margot Grahame returns here April 8, as soon as her divorce is granted, to have a try again at pictures; Kay Williams and her bridegroom, Adolph Speckles, move into a Beverly Hills mansion, which they bought. It's directly opposite the Jack Benny; Jack Oakie needed a barn and couldn't get a priority to build, so he found one and moved it to his ranch; Fritz Lang will lecture at New York University this fall on the subject of direction; June Haver is all set for a fling in New York. She leaves today and is taking some very swanky clothes.

WASHINGTON, March 30—Yearning at all times to be of public service, this department has decided to set up its Missing Persons Bureau. Our aim will be to locate lost and forgotten souls and restore them to the bosoms of their loved ones.

We do not care whether Frances Perkins the latter is restored or not. That we consider outside our province. The Bureau's activities will be confined to locating those who have dropped out of sight from Washington.

We ask the public's co-operation. Anyone having knowledge of the whereabouts of the following will please communicate with our office, so long as it isn't me:

Jake LaMotta Scores Easy Win Over 'Chicken'

By JACK CONWAY

JAKE LAMOTTA once more proved he is the logical opponent for Tony Zale, world's middleweight champion, when he subjected "Kid" Chicken, whose real name is Mark Lockmar, to a terrific shelling in their ten-round bout before 9293 at a Goodwin A. C. show at the Garden. LaMotta won each of the ten rounds. The fifth session was the only one in which Chicken was even close.

Larry Pacino

LaMotta made good his promise to keep throwing punches at Chicken every second he was in the ring. Jake again was obliged to overcome the awkward, clownish style of his opponent in order to win. Chicken at no time stood up and traded blows with LaMotta. It was well for his health he didn't. If he had, LaMotta would probably have punched him into the middle of Causeway st.

Chicken decided that caution was necessary if he was to survive. He first tried to block LaMotta's blows with his arms. He later resorted to a hasty retreat when Jake would come roaring at him. Chicken would push forth a feeble left jab, but he didn't bother LaMotta a great deal. It was Chicken's left hook to the head that did the most damage. It opened a small cut under LaMotta's right eye, but when LaMotta found out about his condition he fought all the harder.

LaMotta directed his heaviest blows at Chicken's body. He made Chicken double up and run to cover to save himself. It was only superb physical condition that enabled Chicken to stand up under LaMotta's withering attack.

The decision of Referee Tommy Rawson and Judges Jim Shaughnessy and Tim Kirby was unanimous.

Joey LaMotta Wins

THE CROWD of 9298 paid gross receipts of $24,018 with a net of $19,052.

Referee Jimmy McCarron stopped the scheduled eight rounder between Joey LaMotta, 156½, Bronx, New York, in 1:55 of the fourth heat with Johnny Johnson, 153, New York practically on his feet. It was scored a TKO for Jake's brother. Joey threw too many punches and scored too often.

Larry Pacino, 163, Roxbury, had another soft touch in Joe Greco, 159, New York, the latter was counted out in 1:58 of the second round of a scheduled eight. A right hand under the heart dropped the pudgy New Yorker. Greco was down twice in the first round.

Johnny Wood, 141½, Roxbury, kayoned Billy Zaduk, 143, Toronto, in 2:10 of the fourth round. Wood dropped Zaduk with a right hand to the jaw.

Don't Sell Bruins Short In Canadiens Series

By FRED HOEY

MONTREAL, Que., March 30—A happy but battle-weary band of Bruins reached here this morning full of confidence and determination as they square away with the speedy Canadiens in the first game of the Stanley Cup finals tonight in the Montreal Forum.

Mexicans to Continue Raids in Major Loops

MEXICO CITY, March 30 (INS)—Jorge Pasquels, president of the Mexican League, warned today that he will continue his raids on American baseball players, and pictured himself as another Abraham Lincoln.

He declared that just as "Honest Abe" freed the slaves, he would shake American ballplayers loose from the "shackles of organized monopoly." He said: "We will bring the greatest American players here in coming years because we will pay them so much money that they can't refuse. We already have 16 American players under contract, and they all will be here within two weeks."

The fiery Mexican declared he was "ignoring" Baseball Comr. A. B. (Happy) Chandler as well as organized leagues in the United States, which he branded as "illegal monopolies." He added: "The players already here are receiving the highest salaries of their careers. They are living in the best apartments and working only half as much as formerly."

"We have all the money we need. We are starting a program of building seven new stadia, which will cost 25,000,000 pesos. The new stadium in Mexico City will seat 50,000 persons. We plan to make baseball the greatest sport in Mexico."

Pasquels, who is 39, is wealthy from his banks, real estate and huge customs brokerage business. He says that baseball, which he formerly played, is only a side issue and hobby with him.

Stadiums already here are receiving the highest salaries of their careers. They are living in the best apartments and working only half as much as formerly.

Vernon Stephens to Play in Mexican League

NUÉVO LAREDO, Mexico, March 30 (AP)—Vernon Stephens, star shortstop of the St. Louis Browns, announced shortly after midnight on his arrival here that he would play with the Vera Cruz Blues of the Mexican Baseball League this year.

Stephens was met Friday in San Antonio, Texas, by Alfonso Pasquel, brother of Jorge Pasquel, president of the Mexican League. The five Pasquel brothers own the Vera Cruz club which has its home field in Mexico City.

Pasquel and Stephens arrived here on the midnight plane and said they had talked things over on the way down, Pasquel said. "Stephens has decided to play with Vera Cruz."

Neither the club owner nor the Browns' shortstop would discuss contracts nor how much has been offered. However, Stephens was offered $13,000 a season by the Browns and he was holding out for $17,000. The offer by Pasquel was believed to have equaled or exceeded his holdout figure.

'No Comment,' Sewell Says of Stephens' Jump

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 30 (AP)—Manager Luke Sewell of the St. Louis Browns said early today he had "no comment" on the announcement that Vernon Stephens, star shortstop of the Browns, would play with the Vera Cruz Blues of the Mexican Baseball League.

Coast Boxers to Show in Hub

Jimmy Richardson, vice-chairman of the National AAU Boxing Commission, will be bringing a complete team of fighters to the Nationals at the Boston Garden April 8, 9 and 10—the first team to represent Portland, Ore., in these championship events in five years.

One of the entries with the Portland team will be Ralph Weiser, an Indian fighter from the Portland Chenaws Indian School. Weiser, winner of the eliminations held on the West Coast, will be stepping into the competition in the 135-pound class—and according to Richardson, he may return to the coast with top ranking in this division.

Two of the "pures" will be from Richardson's home club, the Multnomah Athletic Club. Dennis Quinn, in the 126's, and Cecil Bottcher, a slugging heavyweight, will be carrying the colors of the team that has produced more than its share of champions.

Other members of the Portland team, expected to arrive in Boston shortly, will include Woodall DeLoraine, Police Athletic League, in the 112's; Herb Patzer, University Home Boxing Club, in the 118's; Tom Calhoun, Police Athletic Club, in the 141's; Glenn King, Univ. Homes Boxing Club, in the 180's, and light heavyweight Lawrence Porter, Lebanon, Ore.

Director Tam Sheehan announced that he expects any where from 180-200 fighters to participate in the tourney.

Name Solem Coach Of Springfield Eleven

SPRINGFIELD, March 20 (AP)—Ossie Solem, former Syracuse and Iowa State Univ. grid mentor, has been named head football coach at Springfield College.

Springfield resumes football this fall for the first time since the war began. Solem will report June 1.

Northeastern, Connecticut, Norwich, American International, Niagara, St. Lawrence and Cortland are listed on the Springfield football schedule.

Ann Curtis Equals 100-Yard Swim Mark

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30 (AP)—Ann Curtis, 20-year-old San Francisco swimmer who holds two world records, swam 100 yards free style in less than one minute last night at the Crystal Plunge pool in an exhibition race.

Her time, unofficial, was :59.7—equaling the world's record set by R. Hyeger in Denmark in 1939.

Five NY Race Tracks Raise Purse $500

NEW YORK, March 30 (INS)—The five New York racing associations have decided to increase the amount of purses payable at the New York tracks by the sum of $500, effective April 22. This will increase the minimum purses from $3000 to $3500.

On the strength of the showing by both teams in their recent play-off tests, Bruins vs. Detroit and Canadiens vs. Hawks, the Flying Frenchmen would catch the fancy of many of the wise ones. The ease in which Canadiens grabbed four straight from the Hawks by substantial margins is one reason many lean to the Montreal entry.

The Bruins, on the other hand, played a terrific series with Detroit. Many fans believe this has taken too much out of the Boston boys. They go directly into another series while the Canadiens have been resting since Tuesday's final triumph over the Hawks.

All of this makes excellent fan fodder but, in play-offs hockey, it also might go for Sweeney as many past series have proved. Sweeney denies the lightning speed of these Canadiens. Then again, he can bring the Frenchmen down to their speed by some stiff bodyflogging. Manager Art Ross knows all the tricks of slowing up a fast team.

A glance at the season's record of the Bruins-Canadiens reveals some interesting facts. The Bruins have won four games and lost five. One game went to a tie. The Bruins have scored 27 goals against the Montreal's 29.

The point to remember is that many of these Canadiens have this season—were registered before the Bruins were properly organized. The last regular season game in Montreal found the Bruins hanging a 5-3 win on the Canadiens.

All of this would indicate that the Canadiens are facing a far different Bruin team in this series than they battled against over most of the season.

The big ace-in-the-hole for Canadiens against all comers has been its Leach line with Toe Blake and Maurice Richard on the wings. Yet, this line can't handle the Milt Schmidt line with Bobby Bauer and Porky Dumart playing the wings. These two crack lines should furnish some superlative hockey in the series.

Canadiens may have trouble matching those other two Boston lines who have come like a house afire over the last two weeks. Don Gallinger, Bep Gedolin, with either Bill Shill or Herb Cain, are the babies to watch. Detroit learned this to their regret in the final at the Boston Garden, Thursday, when the popular and effective Don zig-zagged his way to the winning goal with Gedolin as a decoy.

Bill Cowley has another line that should give plenty of trouble. Bill is a master play-maker. Terry Reardon is playing smashing, dishing hockey, the style that wins.

Frankie Brimsek is ready for another of his sensational nights. This goalie truly was amazing as he repeatedly stopped Detroit attacks in that dangerous overtime period.

The wise boys may pick Canadiens but we wouldn't advise the rank and file of the really devoted Bruins fans to bet on the Bruins short. If the Bruins can grab one game of the two games here, it may be the start of something really surprising.

NE Title Skating

The class of the amateur speed skaters of New England and of New York will clash in the New England skating championships at the Arena tonight under the direction of the Massachusetts Skating Club. Included in the list of competitors will be some of the Silver Skates champions.

Jane Weiss President Frank Danahy, Dan Danahy and Bill McGrath predict that the competition tonight will be exceptionally keen. It will be interesting to see how the speed skaters from New York fare against the N. E. stars.

In addition to the speed skating, there will be figure skating exhibitions featuring Miss Gretchen Merrill, world's leading amateur figure skater, Miss Jane Weiss of the Commonwealth Skating Club and other talented performers.

Ruffing Irked By Yankee Boss

CHICAGO, March 30 (AP)—Charles (Red) Ruffing, holdout Yankee pitcher, today said in an interview he wished the New York Yanks would "either make up their minds about him or get rid of him to another club."

"I'm not going to fool around here much longer," Ruffing said. "I'll go to California in a month or so, if MacPhail (Larry MacPhail, president and general manager) decides he can't use me," the hurler said. He added:

"If they can't use me, let 'em get rid of me, and let some other club use me—baseball's my life. But, if they don't, I'll head for the West Coast and go into some kind of business."

Ruffing said he hadn't made up his mind as to the business he might enter, if he and the Yanks don't get together.

Billy Eck, Manager

Draw Suspensions

ALLENTOWN, Pa., March 30 (AP)—Leon Rains, chairman of the Pennsylvania state athletic commission, slapped a 60-day suspension on light heavyweight Billy Eck, Allentown, "for the best interests of Billy Eck and the boxing game in general."

Hines slumped to the floor unconscious during a fight with Eck at Philadelphia. He never regained consciousness. Eck then signed for a fight here April 9 and Rains' suspension action followed. The commission chairman also suspended for life the license of Prince Henry, Eck's manager.

N. Y. PURSES INCREASED

NEW YORK, March 30 (INS)—The New York Racing Association announced today they will increase the amount of purses payable at the New York tracks by the sum of $500, effective April 22. This will increase the minimum purses from $3000 to $3500.

Lake Hits Home Run Off Sain in First

By JOE CASHMAN

LAKE LAND, Fla., March 30—In the opener of their nine-game exhibition series with the World's Champion Detroit Tigers yesterday the Braves faced none other than Hal "Lefty" Newhouse, winner of 54 games the past two seasons.

Moreover, they were informed that the Bengals' portside pride was scheduled to go full nine innings. Also that they'd look at Virgil "Fire" Trucks for nine frames in the second game this p. m.

But if the odds were against the warriors fattening their batting averages over the week-end, the Detroit batters also had something to worry about.

FIRST INNING

BRAVES—Ryan doubled. Newhouse threw out Hopp, Ryan going to third. Mayo threw out Rowell, Ryan scoring. Fernandez fanned. ONE RUN.

TIGERS—Lake hit a home run over the left-field wall. Fernandez threw out Mayo. Wakefield doubled. Ryan threw out Greenberg. Wakefield going to third. McCosky walked and stole second. Mullen walked, fanning the bases. Outlaw beat out an infield hit. Wakefield scoring. Tebbetts forced Outlaw. Wietelmann to Ryan. TWO RUNS.

SECOND INNING

BRAVES—Holmes popped to Lake. Masi struck out. McCarthy singled. Wietelmann singled. Sending McCarthy to third. Sain struck out. NO RUNS.

TIGERS—Newhouse flied to Rowell. Lake fanned. Fernandez threw out Mayo. NO RUNS.

THIRD INNING

BRAVES—Wakefield grabbed Ryan's long fly. Hopp walked and stole second. Rowell walked. Fernandez flied to McCosky. Holmes beat out a hit to Lake, and Hopp scored from second, and when Mayo dropped Lake's throw, which arrived at second too late to catch Dowell. Masi flied to Mullen. ONE RUN.

TIGERS—Wakefield walked.

Joe Kuhel May Join Browns

ORLANDO, Fla., March 30 (AP)—The Washington Senators hope to use Joe Kuhel, veteran first baseman, in a deal with the St. Louis Browns for either Vern Stephens, holdout shortstop, or Mark Christman, third baseman.

The Browns temporarily are without an experienced first baseman pending the result of a recent deal in which they traded George McQuinn to the Philadelphia Athletics for Dick Siebert.

McQuinn reported to the Athletics but Siebert has taken a broadcasting job in St. Paul.

Kuhel, 39, had one of his best years with the Senators last season but Mickey Vernon, returned from the armed forces, has won the first base assignment this spring.

Wolf Turns Down Mexican Offer

CHESTER, Ill., March 30 (INS)—Pitcher Roger Wolf of the Washington Senators has turned down an offer of $115,000 salary from the Mexican Baseball League, it was disclosed today.

Wolf stated that he had attempted to get the Pague brothers, backers of the Mexican League, to deposit $50,000 in American banks on his contract in the event the league disbanded. The brothers refused to do this, Wolf wrote.

Extend Cutting Time in Minor Leagues

DURHAM, N. C., March 30 (AP)—President W. G. Bramham of the National Association today announced minor baseball league approval of an extended deadline for carrying excess players on club rosters.

Under the new provision clubs will have until June 15 to trim squads to normal playing strength, Bramham said.

Heretofore, minor clubs have been required to reduce player strength to approved limits within 20 to 30 days after opening of the season, depending upon league classifications.

Klein Hits Homer in 2d

DETAILS BELOW

East Foxboro Community House Levelled—The entire town of East Foxboro was menaced when a grass fire leveled the Community House (above), two homes and a barn, damaged two other houses and spread over 200 acres. Firemen of four communities, aided by the State Forestry Service, fought flames for six hours before bringing them under control. Three firemen barely escaped with their lives as the walls of the building collapsed. Fifty school children in the Pratt School nearby were led from the structure as flames began to sear the building. More than $500,000 damage has been caused throughout New England by grass fires spreading to homes and buildings.

Klein's Homer Gives Cards Lead Over Sox

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 30—Having already sewed up the series with their third victory yesterday, the Red Sox squared off in their fifth and final game of the spring with the St. Louis Cardinals at Waterfront Park here this afternoon.

Glenn (Rip) Russell, who made his debut as a Sox third baseman during the 3-2 win over the Redbirds at Sarasota 24 hours ago, reported a lame throwing arm this morning and he was replaced by Ernie Andres. Tom McBride was in right field.

Mel Deutsch was the Sox starting pitcher and he was going to try to emulate Dave Ferriss' feat of going the route. Eddie Dyer continued his southpaw diet by starting Harry Brecheen and announcing that he would follow with Howie Pollett.

LINEUP:
RED SOX: DiMaggio, cf; Pesky, ss; Williams, lf; Doerr, 2b; McBride, rf; Andres, 3b; York, 1b; Conroy, c; Deutsch, p.

Jimmy Bell Barred In Four States

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Jimmy Bell, local heavyweight, has been suspended for six months by the District Boxing Commission.

The suspension applies in all National Boxing Ass'n states as well as Maryland, New York and Massachusetts.

Bell was counted out in a recent bout with Jackie Cranford, Washington, when he refused to answer the bell for the seventh round. A commission doctor testified that he found "no serious injury."
